Willing To Be Deceived

"How do you like this butter my dear?" seked the pretty roung house-wife.

"Excellent! Why, it tastes like the butter we used to have down on the farm when I was a boy."

"Well, I'll tell you a little secret. This is not butter at all—it is butter's successor, Benefit Brand 'Sweet Nut.' It's better than most butter and it only costs about half as much."

"Why, you surprise me. I never thought you would serve cleomar-garine on your table."

"Nor I! Of course, the law requires them to use the word oleomarsurine, but there is no ta bit of animal fat in it. It is made from the nutritious part of white cocoanut meats churned with pasteurized milk. You buy it only at the Direct Importing Co's yellow tront store, 227 Franklin square, Norwich, where Benefit Brand Teas, Coffees and Grocery Specialties are retailed at wholesale prices."

"Well, all I can say is that I am perfectly willing to be deceived." "How do you like this butter, my ar?" asked the pretty young house-
